

THE REVIEW OF THE AGREED SYLLABUS1. Requirement for a Review

The local education authority is required, by Section 375 of the Education Act 1996 (Schedule 31), to convene an agreed syllabus conference not later than five years after the current agreed syllabus was adopted. For Hillingdon, this means that such a conference was required to convene by 9 July 2015, as the current syllabus was adopted on 9 July 2010. The conference convened for the first time on 16 June, following a meeting of HSCARE.

2. The Agreed Syllabus Conference consists of members drawn from the same four committees as SACRE, and as a result most local education authorities simply appoint the membership of SACRE to membership of the committees at the conference. To date, Hillingdon's Agreed Syllabus Conference has adopted this format.
3. In the event that HSCARE chooses to recommend a review of the Agreed Syllabus, it is for the local education authority to convene such a review.

4. The Process for a Review

Once convened, the Agreed Syllabus Conference may either:

- a) Recommend that the existing syllabus should continue to be the agreed syllabus.
- b) Adapt the existing syllabus, or write a new syllabus, and recommend this for adoption by the local authority.

In making either of the above recommendations, the four committees of the conference must be in unanimous agreement (although those committees may have disagreements amongst themselves). Should this be impossible to achieve, the Secretary of State will be asked to appoint a body to prepare a syllabus; it should be noted however, that this provision is rarely used.

5. The costs of carrying out the review, for example room hire, are likely to be small. Should a new or altered syllabus be agreed, this would need to be printed and distributed to schools and faith groups, which would cost more. SACRE has been allocated a budget of £3,100 for printing in the next financial year, which is expected to any such costs.
