

Appendix 1 – Booking and Birth Data

Chelsea and Westminster (Chelsea Site)

Chelsea and Westminster's Chelsea site serves residents across central and south-west London, including Kensington & Chelsea, Westminster, and Hammersmith & Fulham. Trends indicate steady demand, with moderate monthly fluctuations that reflect the dynamic nature of the population in the area. This highlights the need for adaptable planning to ensure safe, continuous care. Around 60% of cases from this site come from outside it's immediate catchment zone.

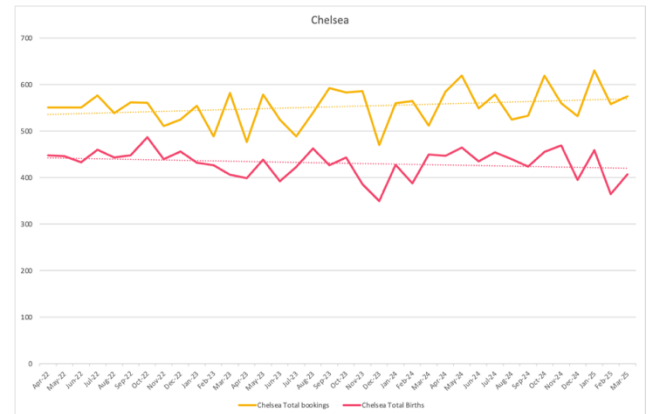

Figure 1 - Chelsea and Westminster Bookings and Births Data

West Middlesex Hospital

West Middlesex Hospital, serving Hounslow, Richmond, and Ealing, shows a stable pattern of demand with some peaks and troughs over the period. These variations emphasise the importance of responsive staffing and capacity management in meeting local maternity needs.

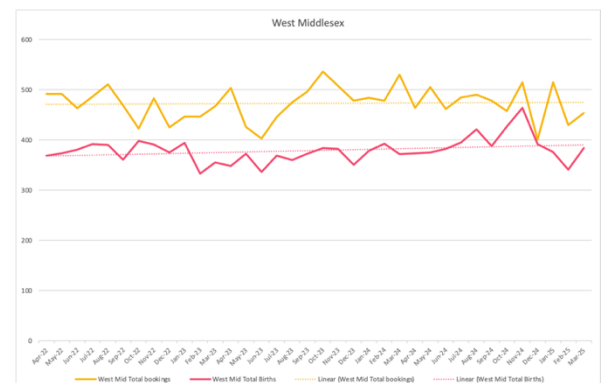

Figure 2 West Middlesex Bookings and Births Data

Queen Charlotte's & Chelsea Hospital

Queen Charlotte's, located in Hammersmith and Fulham, serves central and west London, including Brent and Ealing. Demand has shown a gradual upward trend over time, underscoring the need for proactive service planning to support this specialist centre's capacity for high-risk and complex maternity care.

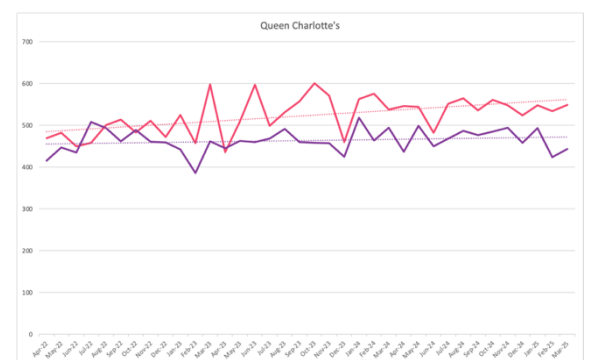

Figure 3 - Queen Charlotte's Bookings and Births Data

St Mary's Hospital

St Mary's, based in Westminster and serving central boroughs such as Westminster and Kensington & Chelsea, displays stable overall demand with periodic variation. This reflects the need for ongoing monitoring and responsive service provision to adapt to local trends.

Figure 4 - St Mary's Bookings and Births Data

Northwick Park Hospital

Northwick Park serves north-west boroughs including Harrow and Brent. Monthly data show notable fluctuations in demand, highlighting the variable nature of service needs and the importance of flexibility in workforce and resource planning to ensure safe care.

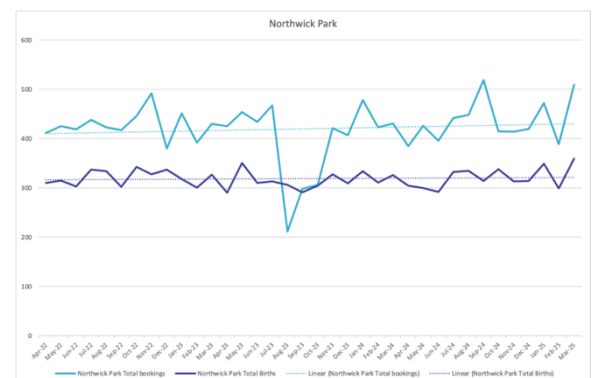

Figure 5 - Northwick Park's Bookings and Births Data

The Hillingdon Hospital

The Hillingdon Hospital serves communities in Hillingdon and parts of Harrow and Ealing. Demand data suggest relatively stable activity over time, with minor declines in bookings. This highlights the need for continued assessment of service configuration to ensure it meets evolving population needs.

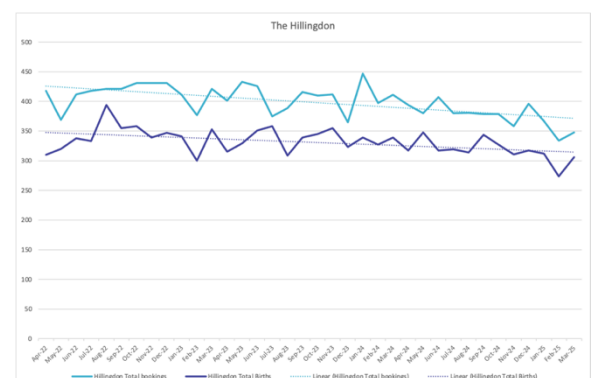

Figure 6 - The Hillingdon's Bookings and Births Data